RENEWING A 30-YEAR WOODLAND TRADITION

For nearly three decades, model hydroplane racing has been a part of Woodland's community fabric, with the exception of a three-year break between 2008 and 2010.

This season, ERCU brings hydroplane racing back to Horseshoe Lake, and it's the next race up on the Red Dot Championship Series presented by Peters & May.

The Skyward Construction Cup presented by Minuteman Press of Longview will be run Saturday, April 30. This race is an open-prop event for the vintage class, and with plenty of room to run, the course will be similar in length to the course at Lake Wilderness. A regular racing schedule is on tap, beginning with set up of the pits, setting the course, and event registration at 7:30 a.m. The water will be open for testing and practice as soon as boats are registered.

Last-minute inspections and rules tests will also be handled prior to the the mandatory drivers meeting, which will be conducted at 10:30. Modern heat 1A will begin five minutes after the drivers meeting.

The shelter at Horseshoe Lake Park is available to racers for a pit area, as is the grassy area in the park, to the west of the boat launch and bleachers. The park has electricity available, and racers are welcome to bring a generator if they prefer.

The Skyward Construction Cup is the second event on the 13-race Red Dot Championship Series presented by Peters & May. Most of the races occur in the Puget Sound area, though along with the Woodland race and two in Tualatin, nearly a quarter of the season's races occur in the Southwest Washington region.

Additional sponsors of the Skyward Construction Cup include LewisRiver.com, Loves Street Playhouse, and DKM Studios (all of Woodland).

Established in 1997, Skyward has built a reputation for performing high quality work and delivering successful projects. Skyward strives to hire and maintain exceptional people who are continually challenged to achieve excellence.

Perkins escapes injury

Kayleigh Perkins, one of hydroplane racing's top up-and-coming stars, escaped injury during a very scary moment while testing her UL-72 at Lake Washington in mid-April.

While idling the boat back to the dock, a fire started in the engine and Perkins quickly began getting out of the boat.

Just as she was emerging from the capsule, the right side of the boat exploded, damaging the hull significantly.

Perkins was able to get into the water and swim to shore, with some assistance from her husband and crew members and once she was checked out by paramedics and deemed to be OK, she deftly handled media interviews and had a chance to survey the damage to her boat.

Bartush has two-boat dilemma

U-13 Spirit of Detroit owner Dave Bartush is busy preparing for the season at his Hydroplane Museum building in Detroit. The current hull has the aft decking off to make repairs and upgrades.

The team's second hull, the former Trendwest built in 2003 by Ron Brown and Jim Harvey, waits in the wings, with work expected to alleviate the boat's balance problems.

Which hull will run depends on work

ERCU RUMOR MILL

Craig Bradshaw is just about finished with the 2010 Miss Peters & May at the West Coast Custom Boats shop. The plan is to run it himself a few times this season, and then refine the mold. West Coast Custom Boats has already had interest in buying this boat when it's finished . . . Mick Shutt. home after a couple of months in Hawaii, has his 1975 Oh Boy! Oberto ready to go for the Skyward Construction Cup presented by Minuteman Press of Longview. It still remains to be seen if the 1978 Miss Budweiser will be ready after a long winter . . . Gerry Bordon, at one of the winter meetings commented that his boat hadn't had a lot of winter preparation work, and it looked good in Centralia. We could see why Gerry didn't do much to it . . . Jesse Shehan didn't have much good luck at the Champion Spark Plug Regatta, seeing one ESC burn up in the Beacon Plumbing in the first modern heat of the day, and some rudder trouble with the 1977 Squire during the open water period. No one blamed him for taking off early.

RULES REMINDER OF THE MONTH

As a result of some concerns from members regarding very large lakes where we share the water with others, the following safety actions shall be followed strictly.

- The chief referee will (as always) have the duty to politely remind [via the PA system] boaters who get too close to the race course that they should move away from the course.
- All hydros will be stopped in place if a safety compromise should come up.
- A board member will scrutinize any boat seen to have radio troubles throughout the day, and a thorough range check will be done after repairs are completed by the boat owner/crew, who will alert the CD BEFORE running his or her boat again after a radio problem.
- Any boat that has questionable radio control connectivity will remain on the bench until it is repaired with confidence, and inspected by a board member, before being allowed back into the race.

CLUB CLIPPINGS

Bill Smiley lamenting bad luck . . . Ben Keller too . . . Nelson Holmberg meeting with Woodland big-wigs . . . John & Dianne Earnest checking around . . . Steve Dumanis securing sponsorship . . . BORDON CLAIMS FIRST CAREER WIN AT SPARK PLUG REGATTA

CENTRALIA, Wash. – Even chilly winds and a little drizzle now and then couldn't stand in the way of Gerry Bordon and his 1970 Parco's O-Ring Miss.

Bordon claimed his first career victory at the season-opening Champion Spark Plug Regatta at Centralia's Fort Borst Lake on Saturday, April 16, piloting the U-8 to the win in a final heat that included a number of very fast boats.

Bill Smiley claimed his fourth career win in the modern division, guiding his 1977 Charlie's Girl to the win in the modern final.

It was the first race on the 2011 Red Dot Championship Series presented by Peters & May.

A day that started out mostly overcast, was still a good day. Inspections were handled over the boats in the pits that hadn't been previously inspected during the offseason. A total of 24 boats were in the pits for the season opener, so the race day moved along nicely.

The first race of the season did see some boats fall victim to attrition due to

Bill Smiley had a good day with his 1977 Charlie's Girl, which finished third, third, second and first. The first place finish came when it mattered most, in the winner-take-all championship final, which Smiley led wire-to-wire. (Photo by Nelson Holmberg) mechanical or electrical issues. The 2010 Graham Trucking, which was due to be driven by Mark Gran, treated its new driver really nasty during the morning's testing and when steering gremlins were discovered to be the true problem, it was decided to leave the U-7 on the trailer for the day. Jesse Shehan's boats had their troubles too. The Squire was scratched first when it had steering troubles of its own. Later in the day, the Beacon Plumbing also had troubles when a speed control burned.

With three modern boats dropping out through the course of the day, just eight boats were left running, so no modern connie was run. Rookie Nels Enquist ran his 1972 Lincoln Thrift in the final as the trailer boat after Gary Hansen chose to scratch his Miss Cott's Beverage from the final in order to drive Campbell's Executone.

Smiley won the modern final at the Champion Spark Plug Regatta with his 1977 Charlie's Girl.

In the modern final, it was the Charlie's Girl, the Boat, and the Miss Circus Circus that jumped out as early leaders. Nelson Holmberg's 2010 Formula Boats was also in the mix, with the inside lane, but when the Formula missed the apex buoy in the right turn on lap number one, its race was more-or-less over. The race ended early, too, for the Circus Circus and the Boat, when both of them blew over.

Smiley held on to the lead wire-to-wire and finished the modern final in first, followed by Hansen with the Executone, Enquist with the Lincoln Thrift in third (from the trailer position), Craig Bradshaw with the brand new 2010 Oh Boy! Oberto in fourth, and Holmberg with the 2010 Formula in fifth.

The vintage class had enough boats to run a first connie, which would have been an eight boat affair had Bradshaw been able to run two boats simultaneously. But seven boats made the first connie, including Dawn Holmberg's brand new 1957 Miss Wahoo, Dave Reiser's Breathless II - both of which scored zero points in the prelims

- and Enquist's Maverick all running as trailers. Smiley won the vintage connie with the 1957 Miss Thriftway, followed by Holmberg's Miss Wahoo in second and Bradshaw's Coral Reef in third.

When it came time for the vintage final, a very even field brought boats to the water. Just after the second lap started, the fast seven-boat field was reduced to five when Ryan Opfer's 1975 Miss Vernor's flipped and landed upside down and Ben Keller's Hawaii Ka'i III – driven by Nelson Holmberg – was involved with a racing collision with Smiley's Thriftway and rolled upside down. From there, it was a drag race. Bordon, Smiley, Hansen, Steve Dumanis and John Earnest gave it their all. When Dumanis' Thunderbolt flipped in the left turn and landed without its cowling, it was dropped to the last finishing position due to the rules for final heats.

When all of the spray settled, Bordon had claimed his well-deserved first win, followed in second place by Hansen's 1954 Muvalong, Smiley in third with the Thriftway, Earnest in fourth with the Gale V and Dumanis in fifth

Special thanks go out to Gran, who stuck around all day to help with turn judging – perhaps setting an unofficial ERCU record for the number of heats served as a turn judge – to Campbell for all of his appreciated assistance, to Rick Lentz for pulling the trailer and helping out with everything from chief refereeing to packing up the trailer, to Reiser for helping out as a chief referee, and to everyone who attended and took their appropriate turns as race officials to make sure the day went as we all had hoped.

It was a great race indeed.

CHAIRMAN'S CHATTER: 2011 SEASON IS OFF TO A VERY GOOD START

As you read this, we have our first event under our collective belts and the next race is the Skyward Construction Cup presented by Minuteman Press at Horseshoe Lake in Woodland, Washington. For those of you who have not ventured to this site, it is well worth the trip.

On another front, I am pleased with the member participation in the operation of the club and its' events, and hats off to Steve Dumanis for getting a sponsor for the Seafair Regatta.

This is the sort of activism that we need. The Club and the Contest Board cannot succeed without your continuing input. Please communicate your concerns to any board member by phone or e-mail.

If you as a member feels' there is an issue or concern affecting the club, please feel free to share that with myself or any board member.

Your concerns are not complaining. We can't get better and put on a better show without your help and input, so keep those cards and letters coming in.

Happy roostertails to you all Ron Daum, ERCU Chairman

A BLAST FROM THE PAST

In 2005, Jerry Courtway completed a beautiful Newton model of Bill Wurster's Llumar Window Film (the former Miss Budweiser T-4) and while he had nothing but trouble with the original, he eventually sold it to Ron Daum who reworked the geometry of the sponsons and raced it for one season before it became the plug for the mold that Daum, Howard Price and Craig Bradshaw put together that became the basis for the current molds that make the modern boats we now see on ERCU race courses around the Pacific Northwest.
